

Pratt's Distinguished Teacher... A Unique Breakthrough

Each year

the Pratt Institute Distinguished Teacher Award is bestowed on a professor who has demonstrated excellence in teaching. Since nominations are made solely by students, it is up to you to recommend a professor for this honored recognition. Your participation is essential. This is your chance to recognize a Pratt Institute faculty member who you believe excels in his or her profession.

Forms will be mailed to you. Nomination boxes are in the Library or the Student Activities Office (Chapel Hall) or in the Library of the Manhattan campus. Your nominations will be reviewed by a selection committee comprising faculty members and student representatives.

The deadline for nominations is Friday, March 5, 2004.
