Full-time Faculty, Library

Paul Schlotthauer, Associate Professor, has been an archivist and Liberal Arts & Sciences librarian at the Brooklyn campus library since 2004. As an archivist, he has paid particular attention to conservation of materials and recently earned a Certificate in Preservation Management from the Rutgers University School of Communication, Information, and Library Studies. Paul served as a faculty representative on the Institute's Strategic Planning Committee, the Development Committee, and the Distinguished Teacher Award Committee. Currently he is an alternate on the Academic Policies and Procedures Committee. He is also active on numerous library committees and helped to lead the library's 2005 strategic planning initiative.

Paul would welcome the opportunity to serve as a senator and represent the concerns of the library faculty. He is especially interested in strengthening the role of the library and the librarians in the academic initiatives of the Institute.
